WILDLIFE PHOTOGRAPHY

Hummingbirds in Sedona Photo Workshop August 16-18, 2019 and August 18-20, 2019

Join professional wildlife photographer instructor Kathleen Reeder for an incredible hummingbird photo workshop in beautiful Sedona, Arizona. With expert wildlife photography instruction, before and during the workshop, and an unbelievable quantity of hummingbirds to photograph in glorious Red Rock country, you'll capture lots of great images and experience the wonder of hummingbirds! Register at www.KathleenReeder.com.

Workshop Highlights

1. An informative online webinar in advance of the workshop to prepare you. The webinar will cover wildlife photography composition tips, camera settings and a slideshow of hummingbird photos taken by Kathleen showing specific camera settings used to capture the images and recommended equipment.
2. An evening session to review camera settings and meet the owner of the property where you'll be photographing the hummingbirds and learn more about hummingbird behavior.
3. All day one day and all morning the next, you'll photograph hummingbirds. There are over 1,000 hummingbirds (up to 7 different species) on the property each day during this migration period. On the full day, we'll begin just before sunrise, break from about 10 am – 2pm and resume our session in the afternoon until sunset.
4. You'll be photographing hummingbirds in natural light, with single flash and using multi-flash stations. There are over 30 feeders that have been attracting hummingbirds for 10 years on this property.
5. Class size is limited to 10 participants so you'll have plenty of one-on-one time with Kathleen to ask questions and get coaching specific to your individual photographic needs.
